Rectory Room future in doubt

Plans to refurbish the ailing Rectory Room took a knock at the January meeting of the Parish Council (PC) when the Chairman, Gerry Stevenson, announced that funds from the Solar Park could not be used for church or school projects. The rooms are owned by the Church and managed by the Landulph Parochial Church Council (PCC). The building is in urgent need of repair, particularly to the outdated wiring and the internal plaster work. The Chairman made the announcement ahead of the regular public forum section of January's meeting. A number of parishioners had attended in the hope of persuading the PC to make a grant to the PCC from solar park funds. Several parishioners who had attended to press for grants for the school were also disappointed.

New parish councillor

Phillip Braund, a lifelong resident of Landulph, has been co-opted to the Parish Council to replace Mac Armstrong who has resigned for personal reasons. Mac stepped down from the Parish Council in December. Chairman, Gerry Stevenson writes, 'On behalf of the Council and the parish as a whole, I would like to express our appreciation for his service to the parish, initially as a Council member, but more recently as Vice-Chairman. He has engaged in lively and sometimes challenging debates at Council meetings. He has pushed us forward into the technological age. Most recently he has been instrumental in proposing the potential benefits a public access defibrillator could bring to the community.
He has also worked hard physically to maintain the environment of the Penyoke playing field, with tree cutting and removal, and many other activities. Many thanks Mac, for all you have done for us, and we wish you well for the future'.
Chris Wyman replaces Mac as PC Vice-Chairman.

Parish to get defibrillator

A defribrillator is to be installed in Landulph, probably at the Memorial Hall. The device, which is designed to restore a malfunctioning heart to its proper rhythm, is a crucial part of first response to heart attack victims. The defibrillator would be installed on the outside wall of the Hall and be available to any member of the public. Instructions for the automated device are printed on the case and are simple to follow. However, the charity installing the unit, Heartswell, will be offering training, including general first aid, to up to 30 parishioners. The cost of the unit will depend on type and installation and also on local fundraising. The Council is likely to cover the cost of the required electricity supply.

Some members of the public had suggested the unit should be installed more centrally in the village at the junction between Fore Street and Coombe Lane but it was pointed out there was no electricity supply here and that the Hall was closer to the centre of the wider population of the parish as a whole.

Parish precept soars 10 per cent

The Parish Council agreed in December to increase the parish precept (the local element of County Council rates) by an exceptional 10 per cent. The increase is needed to provide a fund for the on-going maintenance of the Penyoke playground which has fallen into disrepair recently partly due to lack of funds. A 10 per cent rise is equivalent to a £3.49 per annum increase in annual rates for a Band D householder. The income from the increase will be ring-fenced for the playing field.

Lane named

The short link road between Penyoke Lane and Church Lane, sometimes known as Back Lane, is to be merged with Penyoke Lane. Dual language street signs will be put up in Church Lane and Penyoke Lane.
Due to the obscurity of some of the smaller alleys in the parish residents are advised to have carefully prepared, clear directions ready to give to emergency services when the need arises.

Horse v car – confrontation continues

The Parish Council continues to receive complaints from both riders and drivers, about highway code violations in our lanes. Council Chairman, Gerry Stevenson, pleads with both sides to abide by the Highway Code guidelines and to exercise restraint and courtesy.
Drivers: Pass wide and slowly. Riders are often children, so take extra care. Horses walking two abreast may be escorting a young or inexperienced rider. Always slow down and be prepared to stop. Horses can be unpredictable, despite the efforts of the rider.
Riders: Wear light-coloured or fluorescent clothes in daylight and reflective clothing at night or in poor visibility. Never ride more than two abreast, and ride in single file on narrow or busy roads and when riding round bends. Do listen carefully for the sound of oncoming traffic.

School News

Our big news for this edition is that Ofsted called. The one day inspection took place on the Mrs Best's first day back after maternity leave! We are delighted with the report that truly reflects what Landulph School is all about. The full report is available on the school website and Facebook page, but the summary stated:

'The leadership team has maintained the good quality of education in the school since the last inspection. You and your team show an unmistakable commitment to continuous improvement. High-quality displays exemplify the superior standards you model and expect. Pupils' work reflects the same care and attention to detail. Pupils talk about their learning with pride. Their work in books is impeccably presented. Pupils demonstrate great respect for adults and one another. Their behaviour is exemplary. This contributes to the school's harmonious and industrious atmosphere.'

Landulph School is linked to the saltash.net community school as part of the Saltash Multi Academy Regional Trust. This is due to expand to become the South East Cornwall Multi Academy Regional Trust (SMART). The priority for SMART is to ensure the continuity and quality of education for all of the young people in our local area.

Landulph Under Fives

A New Year has brought a fantastic new team to Landulph Under Fives. Maire Glancy has stepped into the position of Pre School Leader supported by our Deputy Leader Nicola Feltham, and we have welcomed Emily Duckering and Kate Avery as Pre School Assistants. All have settled into their new roles well and have some very exciting activities planned for the children in the coming months. As Emily was our existing Chairperson, her departure from the Committee to join the staff team left a position which has been filled by Lisa Hughes. Lisa is well supported by our terrific committee of pre school parents.

We would like to thank the kind person(s) who posted a very generous donation through our letterbox during Christmas. It is very much appreciated and will go towards our fundraising project for 2017. This year's project is to raise money for IT equipment to support the learning and development of the children at preschool.

Your support at our events throughout the year will also help us towards achieving our fundraising target. Some events we have coming up are:

Sausage Sizzle (Sat 25th Mar)

If you fancy a quick bite to eat before you go shopping, we will be selling delicious hot dogs outside of Tesco Callington. It would be lovely to see you there.

Easter Egg Hunt (Sun 23rd April)

Our annual Easter egg hunt will be taking place just after the Easter Holidays. For those who don't fancy the hunt, there shall be plenty of tea and homemade cake being served in the annexe.

Your continued support is always appreciated and we look forward to seeing you at our upcoming events.

Gardening Club free-for-all in March

Mid-January approaches and already there are a few signs of Spring with flowers and birdsong. Our first talk this year will be on Wednesday, 8 February, at 7.30pm and is about Snowdrops and Hellebores.

During March, on Wednesday 8th at 7.30pm, we have planned a free evening for visitors including a talk, refreshments and raffle. Tricia Howard from Hidden Valley Garden (near Fowey) will take us on a journey through the seasons, the work involved, the highlights and inspiration from other gardens.

Please come along if you're interested in gardens whether planning, digging and planting or even just looking and appreciating.

Members, please bring a friend.

The April talk will be on Wednesday 12 April at 7.30pm and will cover various gardens open to the public in The Cotswolds; but before this, on Saturday 8 April at 2.00pm, it will be Spring Show time. Here are more thoughts on this from Show Secretary Jane Espig; 'We are extremely lucky this year to have Lady Alice Boyd from Ince Castle to join our judges for the Show. Lady Boyd is a widely-known gardener and has a long association with the Cornwall Garden Society. Ince Castle Open Garden days are a real pleasure to visit in Springtime.

'Although it's only early February, it's never too early to plan for the Show. Check those lovely house plants, perhaps an extra feed will encourage blooms. Let your mind consider the possibilities for floral art or inspect your flowering shrubs for a beautifully shaped branch. Schedules will be available from me, Jane on 844811, or Jen, on 846504 from mid-February. We look forward to seeing you there.'

Parish Christmas Walk

A few weeks of rain prior to the walks on 27 December promised very squelchy conditions underfoot. However, a last minute reprieve of some rain-free days improved walking conditions to just normal squelchy.
As usual there were three walks, The 10 o'clock squad of 15 assembled on time and, led by David Erskine, marched off to beat the bounds. A quarter of an hour later an unscheduled 'extra middle' group arrived and trudged off northward. By 10.30 the real 'middlers' were assembling in huge numbers of adults, children and dogs, looking much like a countrified flash mob. A headcount reached 93 then, with Allen Pack bravely leading, they streamed out into the lane where the numbers swelled further as groups of latecomers caught up. Amazingly, all returned unscathed, the dogs were well behaved (more or less) and the leaders didn't succumb to a nervous breakdown.
The short walk was designed to accommodate the very young, the more creaky and anyone else who opted for a pleasant family stroll. In this it fulfilled its purpose with a mix of several generations, including a baby, blissfully asleep in his papoose.
In all, about 120 attended the walks, which, for the 20 years of Parish Walks, was an unprecedented number; possibly more than twice any previous turnout.
Unfortunately this number overwhelmed the kitchen and the pasties quickly ran out. The organisers apologise to those who missed out. Fortunately the bar stocks held up!
Our thanks go to all those who helped behind the scenes and to Charles Evans and the Yacht Club Committee for the use of the Club facilities.

The lack of pasties notwithstanding, it was a memorable social occasion, involving a wide cross-section of the community, which we look forward to welcoming again next year.
The record turnout meant we were able to increase our usual donation of proceeds to the Newsletter.

Meet Quackers, Cargreen's New Resident

as seen on front cover

Full name: Cairina moschata, you can call me Quackers the Muscovy duck.

Origins: Possibly brought up near Calstock and moved down to Cotehele before arriving here. I have been told that I originate from Central and South America, back in the day when there were no immigration rules.

Likes: There's nothing better than a nice drink at my local, at the Spaniards with a pint of the Tamar river. The good thing is that I can swim home if I have too much to drink.

Interests: Being sociable to residents.
Checking out playground green grass.

Dislikes: Boistrous dogs, Chinese food, l'orange and being called duckie.

Favourite Food: I enjoy the natural food I find at Cargreen and occasionally being fed wheat, barley, oats, and bird seed. Unfortunately the food police tell me that I should not have too much of this and even worse, bread is junk food for birds so try not to tempt me.

Ambitions : I would like to go on Who Do You Think You Are.

Relationships: That's too personal - none of your business.

What makes me special : I have long claws on the end of my webbed feet and although my name is Quackers, I very rarely quack unless I am really angry. Although I originate from Central America I don't mind cold weather.

What brought you to Cargreen: Property prices, great community, river frontage, good green and tasty playing fields and plenty of rain. .

Interview conducted by Allen Pack.

If you are a new resident, or even an old resident, who thinks we might need to be reminded that you exist, you can give us an update on yourself and also, perhaps, a photo although we cannot guarantee that we will use it for our front cover. Additionally we are prepared to interview your favourite four legged friends - please contact me (Allen Pack) on 842012 to make arrangements.

Festival seeks new treasurer

The annual Landulph Festival of Music and the Arts enjoyed considerable success again in 2016, offering a repertoire to suit all musical and artistic tastes. The Committee of volunteers meets on a monthly basis to source and organise the October Festival events.

Our AGM will be held on Tuesday 28 February at 7pm in the Rectory Room and we will be looking to appoint some new committee members as well as a new Treasurer. John Hall, our current treasurer is retiring after 10 years of sterling service for which we are all extremely grateful.

If you would like to know more about becoming involved, please contact us via landulphfestival@gmail.com or just come along to the AGM, you will be made most welcome.

Thank you

Village Choir

There is nothing more Christmassy than hearing a group of singers enjoying the delights of making music together in the form of carols and Christmas songs. Well this year I was lucky enough to be invited to join with the Cargreen Village Choir for an open rehearsal in front of family and friends in what turned out to be a fabulous evening for all of us.

The choir is a small group of 15 to 20 local people. Many have very little musical experience but all are enthusiastic and are connected by their love of singing together. They enjoy learning new music, mastering new skills and spending time in each other's company. There is a good social aspect to the choir too with the bar at the Cargreen Yacht Club (CYC), where we rehearse, often open after rehearsals.

I am honoured to have been asked to take over the musical side of the choir as from January. We will be spending time learning new pieces, but also on learning more about singing together as a choir and on singing in a safe and healthy way. Some of the choir have never been taught how to read music and so we will be looking at how to interpret the signs and symbols that make up a piece.

I have had a background in choirs for over 40 years and I am very much looking forward to sharing some of what I have learned with this lovely group of people.The choir get together weekly on a Thursday evening at 7.30pm until 9pm at the CYC. We are always looking for new members particularly younger ones. Please contact Christene Bowman on 841573 e mail: christenebowman@hotmail.co.uk if you would like to know more, or just come along to one of our rehearsals - you will be made to feel very welcome.
We look forward to seeing you soon.
Andy Farris.

Wheels to Work

Some readers may find the following information useful.

Wheels to Work is a charity which hires out motorcycles to young peple. The aim is to help people who live in an area with no public transport to become mobile and travel to work independently. This may be particularly relevant for anyone on shift or weekend working.

A clean provisional or full driving licence is required, and applicants must have completed a Compulsory Bike Training Test. Those of 16 years of age may only use a 50cc bike, but this rises to 125cc at age 17.

The main criterion for people to qualify for Wheels to Work is that they have an offer of (or are in) employment. The whole of Cornwall is covered, and bikes can be serviced at the user's place of work or at their home address.

Charges range from £30 to £36 a week, and include insurance, road tax and servicing as well as roadside recovery. Further information can be found on parish noticeboards, and anyone interested can call the charity on 01209 718888 or e-mail to cornwallw2w@aol.com

Landulph film stars

Hot on the heels of the Crooked Spaniard becoming a TV star in the BBC series The Coroner, Pentillie Castle has matched it by becoming the eye candy for the Sky drama Delicious starring Dawn French in a straight role and Emilia Fox (Silent Witness). Delicious has already aired, the last episode was in January, but it is available on Sky Catch-up. For those without Sky Sammie Coryton is hoping to show the series in a public screening, probably at the Memorial Hall, as soon as she has the DVD. More information on this will be broadcast on Landulph Innit or you can contact Sammie at Pentillie. (see their advert)

Race Night is big earner

Those who came to the Race Night in November will, I am sure, agree that it was a great evening. The races were varied and judging by the queues, many were successful in their choice of 'horse'. Thanks are due to Cindy Zimmer for organising the event and, to those who prepared food, worked the Tote and ran the Bar. Also to the generosity of those who sponsored races and horses. After expenses had been taken out, £1,286 was raised for Memorial Hall Funds. The Management Committee are always looking for fund-raising ideas and any suggestions would be gratefully received.

The Landulph Memorial Hall AGM will be held on Monday 27 February at 7.00pm in the Hall Annexe. Look out for more information on the Notice Boards, nearer the date.

Longcast: Landulph Craft Ale Festival – more next time!

Please give us your diary dates well in advance!

So much goes on in the parish that it is not unknown for two events to clash. This is a waste of time and effort, people worry about divided loyalties, and both events inevitably suffer from reduced support. If you can let me know of any forthcoming events as soon as possible and as far ahead as you can (we listed the September 2017 craft beer festival here before Christmas), even if there isn't space to publish everything, we can at least let organisers know if there is a clash with an event already notified.

Doctor's Car Rota

Sadly 20 December was the Health Centre's last surgery at LMH.
Our thanks to Shirley Kitney and Neil Cradick
for organising the car rota over the years
