LANDULPH LINK – OUR NEW DAILY BUS

This is an innovative initiative by Saltash Red Bus and Landulph Parish Council to connect a rural community with a public transport hub. It provides an afternoon bus between Landulph and Saltash allowing:

- Residents of Cargreen or Hatt to run short errands in Saltash such as top-up shopping, collect prescriptions, visit the banking hub.
- Secondary school pupils attending schools in Plymouth to travel home without having to get a lift.
- Secondary school pupils attending Saltash Community School to attend after school clubs and still get a bus home.
- Residents to book appointments on a Wednesday in Saltash or Plymouth by combining Landulph Link with the existing Hopper Shopper service.

Please think before you go to Saltash for a quick errand, could you use the new bus? With a return ticket costing only £4 (£2 each way), it reduces the traffic on our narrow lanes and one day you might not be able to drive! You don't need to book but you do need a ticket card which you can buy online or from Clare Tagg (078 666 80971). The service leaves Cargreen every school day at 15.45 from the corner of Coombe Lane/Fore Street.

For those new to the village, getting involved with pantomine certainly brightens up your winter nights. No acting experience is necessary. See you there 14th October 19.30. The event as been organised by Sally Worth (sally.worth@gmail.com)

We will also be acknowledging the pain and loss of a miscarriage, we appreciate this may be private and no names are expected unless you would find that supportive. There will also be activities for children available during the service and refreshments afterwards. If you can not make the service but would like us to remember someone, please email powesva@gmail.com or drop a note through Richard Hoskings door, Tamar View, at the end of Fore Street.

COUNCIL SUPPORTS 16-HOUSE DEVELOPMENT AT COOMBE LANE

Landulph Parish Council has supported a significant housing development in Cargreen by two votes to one with the caveat that the type of houses built should reflect local needs. At its September meeting it suggested that three- and four-bedroom houses would be more appropriate than one- or two-bedrooms reflecting the fact that parish residents are likely to be two-car households because of the lack of public transport. Chairman Martin Worth said the parish had to ask itself whether, fifty years after Cargreen moved out of its historic centre into Coombe Lane and Hodders Way, it was time for a new cycle of expansion.

The main objections to the development were expressed by David Ford in the public forum suggesting there was no 'demonstrable need' for the housing; it did not conform to either the Cornwall Plan or the rather older Neighbourhood Plan. It was 'inappropriate housing in an inappropriate place'.Amanda Oliver, the Parish Tree Warden also objected on the grounds that the hedge by the lane would be removed 'and probably never be replaced'.

Only three councillors were able to discuss the plans. Councillors Phillip Braund and Paul Morris declared an interest. Councillor Gaye Braund was given a dispensation to take part in order for the Council to remain quorate. Councillor Libby Gawith who was on holiday commented in a letter to the Council that, although not opposed in principle, she questioned the need for so many houses, the density of the development and the mix of houses. She recalled that Clare Tagg's housing needs survey indicated a clear preference for 3-bedroom family homes.and was also concerned about sewerage provision and drainage and the lack of public transport.

Councillor Clare Tagg said there was a clear local housing need and that was for three- and four-bedroom houses to buy. The plans included four four-bedroom, eight three-bedroom and four two-bedroom houses closely reflecting local housing needs. She noted that it was impossible to live in Landulph without a car, but that it was more important to meet the housing needs and extra traffic must be accepted.

Gaye Braund said it was not possible to have these houses without a better bus service and this development was likely to generate at least 32 extra cars. 'It's too much in too small an area', she added before voting against.

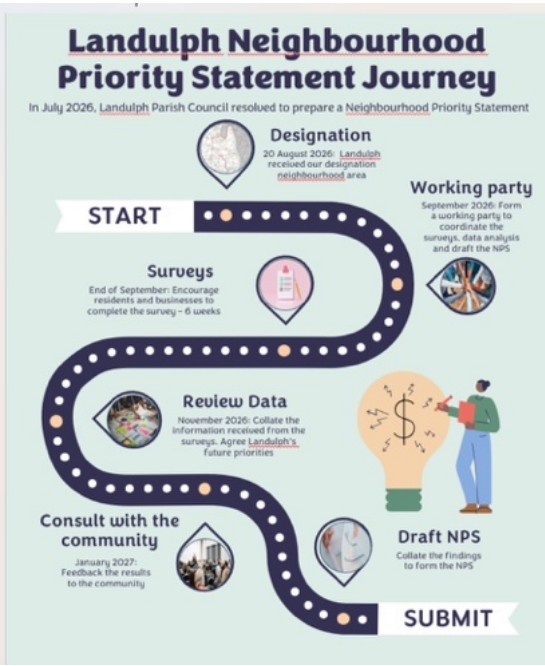

Chairman Martin Worth said the County Planners regarded the density of the development as too low – which surprised many in the public seating. He also said, if approved, the development could be built in two years and would probably go to a housing association. It was likely to go to appeal if turned down. As far as traffic was concerned, he said the Highways Authority would not get excited about extra cars for less than 400 houses. Fears that the school would be overwhelmed with new pupils were misjudged because the local birthrate had fallen and the school wanted to increase its numbers. The drift towards working from home also meant less pressure on the roads. For full details see the official minutes and reports on www.landulphparishcouncil.gov.uk.

NEIGHBOURHOOD PRIORITY SCHEME

Thank you to everyone who joined us at the initial session for the Neighbourhood Priority Statement. Some people have agreed to form a working party, others are happy to distribute surveys to make sure everyone is heard and others were content to respond to the survey when it lands on their doorstep or inbox. Our first formal session will be Monday 28th September at 6pm in the Memorial Hall where we intend to take the next step on our journey of formulating a Neighbourhood Priority Statement. For up to date information please check out our page on Landulph Parish Council website landulphparishcouncil.gov.uk/neighbourhood-priority-statement-2026

NEW ACCESSIBLE ENTRANCE TO DUKE ORCHARD: VOLUNTEERS CLEAR THE WAY.

Landulph Orchard Green has got a new grant from Tamar Valley National Landscape to provide a more accessible entrance to Duke Orchard allowing people to leave the verge parking area at the bottom of Duke Orchard and go directly into Duke Orchard through the old overgrown gate.

The new path winds through the trees, past the existing picnic space to join up with the existing path. It will be surfaced like the existing paths. There will be additional benches in the lower picnic space which will also be surfaced.
This will make it easier and safer to drop people off and allow people to walk more safely down the verge to Duchess Green.
Nine volunteers worked over two sessions to clear the undergrowth from the old gate so that the digger could cut the new path. All the undergrowth was added to the 'dead hedge' at the top of Duke Orchard.

PARISH COUNCIL ROUND-UP - SEPTEMBER 2026

With a 26-point agenda and two weighty planning applications to consider, this month's Parish Council meeting was expected to be lengthy and heated. Indeed, four rows of seats were fully occupied by an above-average attendance. As it happened, although it was long, it was less consequential than some observers expected. A major story from the meeting is reported elsewhere (see page 8).

Six members of the public asked to address the Public forum leading to speculation that planning issues be would be controversial and might become heated. It turned out the most common topic was support for Landulph Link bus service.

A letter from a resident reignited efforts to get the Crooked Spaniard Inn relisted as an Asset of Community Value (ACV). This follows the owner's failure to get planning permission to change it to a private dwelling or dwellings. The ACV would give the parish first refusal on buying the inn though it was observed it would have to come down considerably in price before this was practical. Clare Tagg said it would not cost money to start the process. Martin Worth said it was up to the public to initiate the ACV.

The future of the Searles Family Memorial field is still not resolved though there is a plan to plant trees and create woodland trails. This might be part-funded by Forest For Cornwall.

The Penyoke Playing Field has passed its annual safety inspection with no high or medium risk assessments. The Parish Council expressed its thanks to David Ford who had repaired the famous tractor at a below budget cost.

The Parish Council to increase its annual support for the Landulph Newsletter to £500 a year. Its current grant is £200. Councillors agreed it was important the Newsletter retained its independence. Chairman Martin Worth observed that Landulph was one of very few local parishes to have a newsletter independent of local government and it deserved support.

Criticism of the contractor who cut the Highdown hedges without warning and without a nest survey was rejected by the Council. Chris Billings had acted promptly and on his own initiative following a traffic accident involving serious injury caused, in part, by obstructed sight lines. The Council agreed to decide whether to cut earlier next year following a site visit. It was said Chris Billings deserved thanks, not criticism.

Finally, parishioners will be delighted to know the Memorial Hall broadband now incorporates the very latest technology and a superfast speed if 1gb.

For full details see the official minutes and reports on www.landulphparishcouncil.gov.uk. The next meeting is on 19 October

CARGREEN YACHT CLUB – 2026 REGATTA

On Saturday 12 September we were happy to see that the weather was good, both for the yachts and for the people who came along to enjoy the social side of the event. We had 51 entrants of which 46 completed the races. There was plenty of wind in the Sound to get the yachts moving quickly upriver towards the club and although several of our members were placed in good positions in the results, none won any prizes this year.

Meanwhile, shoreside, lots of spectators came along and enjoyed, first of all, our cadets' afternoon tea spread and many others enjoyed pulled pork rolls and barbecue fare. The bar was of course open and we were all well entertained by Cornish Groove Collective who played a wonderful variety of music which enticed many to dance into the evening. As the light faded visiting yachtsmen and yachtswomen were returned to their yachts by our water taxis.

It was a wonderful day where we had the largest turnout we have ever had – none of which would have been possible without the many volunteers who help, from race planners, water taxi drivers, cooks, bar staff, cadets and those who help setting up and clearing up – thank you!

Gwenda Keene – social secretary

LANDULPH SCHOOL

Once a week you might spot our pupils coming into school staggering under the weight of large kit bags spilling out wellies and waterproofs (you might also spot harassed parents coming back again later clutching the forgotten kit bags left at home!). Those bags indicate it is Wild Tribe Day, a very special day of the week. Wild Tribe is all about taking the curriculum outdoors to enhance children's learning, while providing a safe, healthy and fun environment and here at Landulph, our outdoor environment is just perfect.

Our pupils learn new skills, such as fire lighting, cooking outdoors, building shelters, and using tools; they problem solve in teams and individually; they put their trust in each other; their confidence and self-esteem get a boost; they are encouraged to be more active and therefore more healthy; they work in a team while growing as individuals; and most importantly, they have a really great time!

We are so fortunate to have our amazing grounds to take full advantage of for our Wild Tribe sessions. How many other schools can devote an afternoon to harvesting their own apple trees, for example? Having picked all the ripe apples from our trees and collected the windfalls, we whizzed some up into a tasty juice and used the rest to make a delicious apple crumble. Talk about enjoying the fruits of our labour!

This term we will also be trying our hands at woodwork, learning how to use tools such as palm drills and hand saws safely and independently. We will make bird feeders out of the natural resources that we find around our field. Bug hotels will be created whilst we learn about different bugs. By the end of term, we will have begun to learn to identify all the different trees, bushes and plants that grow here. No doubt we will get wet and muddy, over-excited and pretty loud while having the best time outdoors! So next time you spot those kit bags, be assured… a good day is about to be had!

PRE-SCHOOL FOCUSES ON THE FAMILY

Welcome back to all our wonderful pre-school children. We started in September with eight children on our register including a new starter.

This half term the topic is 'My Family' and our topic story book is The Tiger Who Came to Tea. We will be learning about various types of families and what makes us all different. So far, the children have made cardboard tube people and created a family picture by choosing different multicultural figures. We will also be creating a house by using family photos from home.

Landulph Under Fives Committee will be providing refreshments at the Christmas Craft Fair on the 21 November, all money raised will go to the pre-school.

Thank you to the community for your continued support and we hope to see you at our events throughout the school year.

SKETCHING SUMMER

The Cargreen Art Club and guests visited four loosely-connected places to be vantage-points ideal for an open-air ('plein-air') art day, planned for 1st August, 2026. All strikingly different, they offered a choice of botanical illustration, architectural drawing, lush landscape and a wide sweep of the Tamar incorporating the Saltash bridges. They were Duke Orchard: haven of tranquillity; the Church of St Leonard and St Dilpe, where historian Andrew Barratt would be present to chat and answer questions; Duchess Green, large and wild, which would be the hub, with summer music, food and drink and Neal Point, the Tamar all around, with Saltash bridges in the distance and glimpses of bird-sanctuary wilderness. Non-artists were invited to share in the event and linger, relaxing in the beautiful venues.

Over forty people came, with more than eight artists ensconced in shady places - it was sunny although not too hot. There were prizes for children's art, including stick sculptures and rock-painting. The stars of the day were the delicious food and the Players' impressive programme of summer music, enjoyed by their newly-acquired fans from the slopes of the Green. The atmosphere was as usual here: friendly, good-humoured and welcoming to visitors, with many in best summer outfits to mark the occasion.

More artists are enquiring about next year and there are already tentative plans for next summer.

LIFE SAVING AUTOMATIC DEFIBRILLATORS

There are three defibrillators located within our parish for public use in an emergency, located at:

1. Landulph Memorial Hall in Fore Street located adjacent to the front doors. To use you are required to input the code 1111 to unlock, and press the green 'tick' buttonto open for access.
2. Cargreen Yacht Club, Coombe Lane located on the front wall of the building before you reach the front doors. This unit is left unlocked, and so no unlock code is required.
3. Stockadon Barns, located at the side of the end garage on the left, over the cattle grid. There is a green sign indicating the location and the cabinet is left unlocked and ready to use with instructions in the box. There are no paediatric pads in the unit.

Please remember in the event that you need to use one of the above units, that in a cardiac arrest situation continuous CPR is essential while someone else goes to obtain the defibrillator.
